In an unprecedented move, Unit 123 threw a free I/N “Stars of Tomorrow” Sectional, May 14-15, in Darien, IL, a western suburb of Chicago.

Attendees were mostly from Illinois and Indiana, and the response was just what was hoped. Players loved the hospitality, loved earning silver points, made new friends and partners, and generally embraced the idea of tournament bridge as it should be. Several of the players are planning on coming to St. Charles for the up and coming Summerfest Regional, July 11-17. They understand that partnerships will be arranged when necessary. They want to move up in the ranks.

Below are some of the letters we received with respect to the tournament and pictures of the winners... one of them could be YOU!! Reading these letters and looking at the photos will make you want to come next year.

Thanks to all the volunteers who worked so tirelessly to put this together and to the CCBA Board of Directors for voting to subsidize the expense. A great time was had by all.

Big kudos to Angie Clark and Adrienne Cohen, co-chairs of the event.

Joann Brani, left, of Glendale Heights, IL, and Virginia Cahill of Aurora, IL, placed first in all stratifications in the Open Pairs on Saturday morning, scoring 60.98%.

To the tournament committee (excerpts from notes to the chairmen):

“When I came out on Friday night to give you a hand in setting up, I could not believe all the work that had already gone into the weekend. It truly was impressive. Still, I cannot tell you enough times what a great job you did at Darien. I got 10 friends to come out for the tournament, and each one told me how impressed they were with everything. It is beyond my comprehension that the Board worked so hard to put on a tournament of this caliber, and FREE on top of it. You and Diane worked your butts off both days making sure that everyone felt welcomed, and it was noticed. I haven't seen food like that at tournaments where fees are paid, and yet breakfast and lunch were not only provided, but were awesome. Just a class act. One more reason why I admire this Board, and would like to help them out some day.

Beyond the obvious, however, was the personal side. You all walked around and talked to several of the players, answering questions throughout both days. Diane was always quick to answer any calls, giving that smile as she ran around the room. More than one person told me how they thought her rulings were both decisive and fair; to a beginner, that is huge. Carl was so great with his kibbitzing and advising players if they asked questions after a session. It was such a friendly atmosphere, and speaking on behalf of my group, it was simply incredible.

Anyway, kudos to a job well-done. I just want you to know that the I/N players who came to Darien all owe you a huge debt of gratitude. See you soon---at the ABA/CCBA event, if not before.

Mike Cochran

We want to thank you for the terrific time we had at the 299er this past weekend. The bridge was fun as always and the food was outstanding. We know you put a lot of effort into making this a great tournament and it sure showed. It was also great meeting you and hearing your stories. We hope to play in St. Charles in July and say hello there. We are quite new to this game (just 2 years) and we really appreciate the tournament you put together. Thanks again.

Harry and Jill Levy

Thanks! and thanks for putting on such a great event!
hugs, Gregory Ward

We said thank you yesterday, but the weekend event was so great that it required a follow-up e-mail. All of the NW Indiana group will be returning to CCBA events and Chicago area club sessions. We hope to see you again at the ABA sectional in early June.

Best regards, Bill de Funiak

Tying for first in C in the Swiss teams event were, left to right, Maureen Kelly of Naperville, and Jody Westland, Evelyn Grant and Adrienne Adams, all of Aurora, IL

Shengke Wang of Bolingbrook, and Meiheng Shi, Judy Zhu and Ping Hu, all of Naperville, IL

Winning first in A Open Pairs Saturday afternoon with a 60.69% game were Gregory Ward and William Buchman
of Chicago, IL

Craig Robinson, ACBL President, Visits District 13, May 24-25th

Craig Robinson, current President of the ACBL, as part of his 100 Clubs in 100 Days tour, visited three clubs in District 13. During Craig's stay, he and his wife, Elaine, stayed with Suzi Subeck, District 13 Director, and her husband, Stan.

Craig arrived on the evening of May 23rd. He mapped out his journey, checked his email, and visited quietly with the Subecks.

Early on Tuesday, May 24th, Craig and Stan headed to Betty Hoffman's ABC Bridge Club in Northfield, IL, to compete with the rest of the club players.

ABC Club Director, Betty Hoffman, with ACBL President, Craig Robinson, at her club

There were 41 tables and Craig was quite impressed. It was the largest game Craig had attended to date on the tour. Stan and Craig finished second.

Players were very cordial and Craig answered their questions and concerns about the ACBL.

When Stan and Craig returned to the Subecks following the game, Suzi joined them to pick up Elaine at the airport.

On May 25th, Craig set out for Elaine Morrison's Deerfield Bridge Club to play at 10:30 with Stan (Steamer) Katz. Craig and Steamer won.

Elaine had 31 tables and was gratified to have the President join her at her game.

Again, the players embraced Craig and were delighted with his visit.

After returning from the game, Angie Clark, volunteer extraordinaire from Unit 123, dropped by the Subecks to meet Craig and Elaine.

That night Craig made a trek from the North suburbs to the city to play in Matt Dyer's game at the University of Chicago. This is a small game made up primarily of students and professors.

Matt picked Craig up at the Subecks and he and Craig had dinner on campus with some of the students. After dinner, Craig played with one of the students and thoroughly enjoyed the game.

Sadly, on Thursday morning, Craig and Elaine bid farewell and took off for Ann Arbor to visit clubs there.

Building Better Partnerships

Unwritten Rules to Improve Communication:

1. Always raise your partner with 4-card support
2. Play only conventions with which you and your partner are comfortable
3. Describe your hand once... once is enough
4. Look at the auction through your partner's eyes. Picture his hand from his auction and consider how he is picturing yours from your auction
5. Trust partner ... partner is your friend

Some Suggestions:

Overcalls suggest opening leads. Overcalling based on length is normal, but be careful to overcall suits in which you can tolerate partner's lead.

Doubles may suggest penalty or they may be for take-out. Penalty doubles are made more frequently in high level auctions. Take-out doubles are made most often at low levels.

If you hold an opening hand with shortness in clubs and your RHO opens the bidding 1♣, you may choose to double. This double asks partner to bid his long suit and suggests you will have a fit for that suit. If partner holds ten or more points, he should jump in the suit he is bidding. If partner holds less, he should bid the suit at the cheapest level he can. However, no matter how bad his hand is, he cannot pass a take-out double unless he holds extreme length in the suit you have doubled.

The purpose of the auction is to find the correct strain and level for play. To do this, partners communicate their values to one another through bidding.

There are only eight bidding words: spades, hearts, diamonds, clubs, no-trump, double, redouble, pass and seven numbers with which to do this.

To determine the proper level at which to play, you must listen intently to what partner tells you. Does he have an opening hand? Once you have discerned from the bidding that you have adequate points for game or slam, you must be sure to keep the auction alive to get there.

To determine the proper strain, again you must listen to what partner is saying. If he raises your suit and you have five of that suit, it is correct to play there. If he is bidding your short suits, it is usually correct to play no-trump.

Bidding and partnership are strengthened when I tell you mine and you tell me yours!

Don't be afraid to get too high. It happens to all of us. Be kind when partner errs... believe me, you will err too.

Inverted Minors by Lynn Koskie

Inverted Minors exchanges the meanings of the simple and double raises of 1♣/1♦. For simplicity, the examples and situations described herein will be based on an opening bid of 1♣.

After 1♣, a simple raise to 2♣ is a one-round force, promising at least ten points and four clubs. A jump raise to 3♣ is preemptive, showing 5-8 points and at least five clubs (although excellent four-card support is permissible). Both raises deny a four-card major suit.

♠A 8 2		♠10 9 3
♥J 10 9		♥K 3 2
♦A Q 3		♦K 3
♣Q 10 9 8		♣A J 6 5 4
	1 ♣	2 ♣!
♠A 10 2		♠9
♥J 9 8		♥10 3 2
♦A K 3		♦Q 9 3 2
♣Q 10 9 8		♣K J 6 5 4
	1 ♣	3 ♣!

Opener's rebids after partner has bid 2♣ are:

- 2♦: 14+ points with a four-card diamond suit, forcing
- 2♥: heart stopper (usually 3+ hearts), forcing
- 2♠: spade stopper (usually 3+ spades), forcing
- 2NT: Shows 12-14 points with a balanced hand
- 3♣: A catchall bid denying the ability to make any other bid.
- 3NT: 18-19 points with a balanced hand

Responder's rebids to 2♦/2♥/2♠ are:

- 2NT: 10-12 with a balanced hand
- 3♣: A minimum unbalanced hand
- 3NT: 13-15 with a balanced hand
- A raise of opener's second suit: 3+ trumps, invitational
- A new suit: Showing or Asking for a stopper, depending on agreement

Some pairs play Inverted Minors in both uncontested and competitive auctions. It is a matter of partnership agreement whether to play Inverted Minors in competition.
